

The Las Vegas Dentist That Changed My Life Forever

Written by Laura Holloway, Wedding Photos by Samofoto

Dear Dr. Mohtashami,

I'm sure that over the years you have helped many patients, improving their lives and brightening many smiles. But I doubt that you have helped any of them more than me! Words cannot describe how you have transformed my life and my smile. For over ten years I lived with such terrible fear, shame and anxiety which caused many tears, sleepless nights, and feelings of hopelessness. Because of you, your caring compassion and understanding, I am finally free from all of those horrible feelings. I am so amazingly happy. I have so much more confidence, and I can laugh and smile as big as I want without hiding or covering my teeth. Many people have noticed a whole change in my personality and mannerisms. Your dedicated hard work and wonderful professionalism makes you a hero to me and the smile you have given me is one of the greatest gifts I will ever receive. My wedding day was so much more special and beautiful because of all you have done for me. Thank you so very much for everything, for brightening my smile and changing my life forever.

With all of my heart's appreciation,
Sarah Scott Piper

Sarah's story is a special one. She has been through a lot. At All Bright Dental we see and meet people every day that for one reason or another have an embarrassing and dysfunctional smile. This typically causes a deep lack of self confidence and self esteem. Our goal is to help folks like this regain the complete function of their teeth as well as a beautiful smile, consequently freeing them to be themselves again.

Cancer had weakened Sarah's bone structure, including her teeth. This close up was taken before Dr. Mohtashami of All Bright Dental performed a full mouth makeover for her.

Sarah Piper, formerly Sarah Scott, was diagnosed in her teens with a form of cancer that substantially weakened her bones, including her teeth. Fortunately it was discovered early and after a short stint of chemo therapy she recovered and resumed her life. However, over the next few years her teeth deteriorated further and she became embarrassed by them. At first she learned to hide her smile. In time, she never smiled at all or laughed out loud in the presence of others.
